The curricula designed for the undergraduate program promotes effective student learning in arts, science, humanities, commerce, computer application technology, and business administration with a primary focus to produce top-quality graduates for their future endeavours, including graduate study, employment or other personal goals. The Master Degree programs imbibe student-centric learning environment that emphasizes concrete experiences, intellectual discourse and critical reflections. The students acquire the knowledge, skills and acumen necessary for intellectual growth, employability and entrepreneurship in a changing global environment.

TEACHING LEARNING AND EVALUATION

IQAC reviewed of the teaching - learning process at the end of each semester and suggestions were given to remodel and strengthen the remedial coaching practices based on the result analysis of the individual department. Students' feedback of faculty and institution were are collected analyzed for follow-up action. IQAC also conducted meetings / professional skill development programs to enhance teacher effectiveness.

The college has been effectively following Tutor –Mentor system in all the programmes to assist both the advance learners and slow learners. The advance learners were encouraged and motivated to write all competitive and professional exams and also helped the slow learners in acquiring their graduation and the necessary skill sets to face the challenges of the present day with confidence and vigour. The students were also guided to attend the bridge course in English to improve their communication abilities which helped them to perform better in campus interviews. Special efforts were taken towards slow learners in terms of their needs. Science departments have implemented peer group learning to address the needs of slow learners.

RESEARCH, CONSULTANCY AND EXTENSION

The College has a Research Coordination Council which monitors and coordinates all research activities on the campus. As of now there are Five Research Centres and three well equipped science laboratories in the college. With a view of fostering talents of students in co-curricular activities such as debates, seminars, oratorical, essay-writing and quiz competitions as well as to encourage their histrionic talents, the departmental associations function effectively in the college.
