REPORT

Guru Nanak Centre for Research organized a Workshop on “Dynamics of Research Proposal Preparation and Scientific Report Writing” On 7th and 8th February 2019. The Inaugural lecture on the Strategies for Good Research was delivered by Dr.PIT. Pitchappan, Senior Scientist, DIRF, Chennai. He stated that any workshop or conference should result in motivating a researcher to begin research. He discussed the current scenario of Research in India and shared effective strategies for publication of research work in International Journals. He also shared his experience of Collaboration, Mentoring, Web Influence, Virtual Laboratories and Public Datasets that could be utilized to develop good research.

Session 1 on 'Essentials of Research by Dr.M.C John milton talked about the scientific method of developing Research. He emphasized on the need to ask the proper questions from multiple perspectives to identify the research gap. He enumerated the steps involved in writing a good research paper and stressed the importance of reading the published research works

Session 2 on "Plagiarism and Citation Pattern" by Dr.Fazlumnisa Syed talked in detail about the e-resources available for any researcher readily accessible online. She stressed the importance of ensuring the GIF is from a reputed agency to steer clear of predatory journals. She gave valuable tips on avoiding plagiarism and suggested "Cite While you Write to avoid accidental plagiarism. She also suggested applications like Mendeley that could ease the process of research

Session 3 on Effective Proposal Writing by Dr R. Velraj the four essentials of research proposal as solid partnership, innovative project communicate with clarity and precise definition of proposed budget. He also emphasized that a proposal should fall within any one of the five spheres of Energy, Environment. Water, Agriculture and Materials to be selected. He highlighted the common components of a research proposal and cautioned about clarity on cost sharing. A good proposal should have a significant impact and be cost effective. He stated that there is an abundance of funds allocated for research projects and good quality proposals will be approved. A total of 164 participants attended the workshop of which, 127 internal participants had registered for the workshop which included faculty members and research scholars. 37 external participants had registered at various colleges, universities and research centres.
