Respected Principal,

1. It gives me great pleasure to communicate with one of the leading institutes of the country dealing with Defence Studies. Defence Services Staff College is a premier institution of learning and higher studies for defence services in India. Ours is a tri-services institute with officers from the Army, Navy as well as the Air Force.

2. We have been affiliated with the Department of Defence & Strategic Studies, University of Madras since 1979. The College provides student officers of Major and Lieutenant Colonel and equivalent rank an opportunity to pursue M Sc in Defence and Strategic Studies. In addition, M Phil degree courses are run for fifteen selected officers of senior rank. The College has a well-balanced curriculum with a rigorous schedule and work ethic. Several national and international academicians and personalities of repute are invited regularly to participate in seminars and deliver lectures.

3. It is towards the aim of facilitating scholarly research amongst officers of senior ranks, particularly those who have already obtained M Phil degree, that this college, in liaison with the University of Madras has arranged for Directing Staff here to pursue Ph D degrees. It would be an honour if the Guru Nanak College, Chennai would concur to provide four or more vacancies for the faculty of DSSC to pursue PhD degree with the Department of Defence Studies at your institution. This would be a good opportunity and platform for interaction and learning between the academia of your institute and the 'scholar warriors' of DSSC. I shall look forward to a positive response to this initiative.

With warm regards.

Yours Sincerely

ABSTRACT:

The bifunctional nanofiber mats composed of chitosan/poly (vinyl alcohol) (CS/PVA) and silver nanocrystals (AgNCs) have been fabricated by a facile electrospinning method. The formation and presence of AgNCs supported on the CS/PVA nanofibers were confirmed by Ultraviolet-visible spectroscopy (UV) and X-ray diffraction (XRD). The morphology of the samples was characterized by transmission electron microscopy (TEM) and scanning electron microscopy (SEM). The prepared Ag NCs/CS/PVA nanofiber mats showed the pronounced antibacterial activity against Escherichia coli (E.coli), and excellent filtration properties for the suspended particulate matter (SPM) particles. The measurement results indicated that the AgNCs/CS/PVA nanofiber mats were hopeful to be used as a bifunctional material in real life.
